PROJECTS

Covid 19 Analyzation :

Using R, we analyzed a dataset to determine key statistical measures.we calculated the mean death rates for men and women.We also calculated the average age of death and the overall death rate within the dataset.This analysis highlights the power of R for conducting statistical investigations.

Agronaut :

The main objective of this project is to help farmers to perform agro-marketing and suggesting best practice in farming process using machine learning.It enables the farmers to purchase seeds and tools directly from sellers and also they can sell their products.This project creates the partnership between farmers and consumers.

Career advancement platform :

This platform connects students and recruiters. Students create profiles showcasing skills, certificates, and job preferences. Using machine learning, the platform recommends relevant jobs based on student profiles. This empowers students by facilitating career exploration and fostering professional growth. Recruiters leverage efficient search tools to find qualified candidates, streamlining the hiring process.
